NOTICE TO FORECLOSE.

KNOW all men, that whereas, Cyrus Moore, formerly of Dover, in the County of Penobscot, (now Piscataquis) in the State of Maine, by his Deed of Mortgage, made and executed on the fourteenth day of January, A. D. 1835, conveyed to Joseph Knowles, of Chester, in the County of Rockingham, and State of New-Hampshire, the following described Real Estate, viz one undivided eighth part of the third quarter of Township No. 4, in said County of Penobscot, (now town of Orono) being part of the Lands purchased by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts of the Penobscot Tribe of Indians in the year 1796—Said quarter bounded as follows, to wit: Southerly by the fourth quarter of said Township; Westerly by Pushaw Lake, Northerly by the second quarter of said Township No. 4, on the West side of Penobscot River; and Easterly by said River, or however otherwise the same may be bounded, reference being had to the survey of said Township, by order of said Commonwealth for a more particular description thereof. Said Real Estate (subject to certain reservations, set forth in said Mortgage Deed, being conveyed to me in mortgage, to secure the payment of $1660,16 cents, and interest annually, according to the tenor of three promissory Notes, described in said mortgage deed recorded in Penobscot Registry of Deeds, book 51, page 345. Be it known, therefore, that the condition in said Mortgage has been broken, and remains unfulfilled, by reason whereof I claim to foreclose, and hereby do foreclose said Mortgage, by virtue of the Statute in such cases made and provided. Dated at Bangor, this fourteenth day of September, A. D. 1838. JOSEPH KNOWLES.

REMOVAL.

☞ The Office of the Whig and Courier has been removed to the Rooms over the Store of Messrs Smith & Fenno, a few doors below the former stand. Entrance No, 13, West Market Place.

American Manufactures. The editor of the New York Herald, gives the following table of the amount of capital and number of hands employed in some of the most important manufactures of the United States. He estimates the value of manufactures, during the year previous to the census at fifty millions of dollars.

Manufactures	Capital	Personnel
Cotton	[illegible]	[illegible]
Woollen	10,000,000	[illegible]
Silk	1,000,000	18,000
Fur	6,000,000	15,000
Cordage	1,000,000	2,000
Steam	2,800,000	300
Saw mills	12,000,000	20,000
Grates & Stoves	500,000	600
Pottery	500,000	500
Brushes	1,000,000	900
Duck beams	1,800,000	600
Cloth caps	1,000,000	1,200

☞ The Liverpool correspondent of the New York Star says that the visit of King Leopold of Belgium and his wife, to the Queen of England, is generally expected to have some connexion with Victoria's expected marriage. Whom she shall wed seems undecided. Popular opinion is in favor of her union with her cousin, Prince George of Cambridge. He is a nice young fellow, but as wild and dissipated as George IV was at his age. Indeed, to get him out of the way of temptation it has been resolved that he shall be sent on his travels for two years, and he starts for Gibraltar immediately. The general opinion is, that King Leopold has a great deal too much influence over his niece.

☞ The statement of the Globe, that Douglas, the Van Buren candidate for Congress in Illinois, had more votes than Mr Stewart, who received the certificate of election, is contradicted by the Springfield (Ill.) Journal on the authority of the Secretary of State, who says, "that if all the votes were counted which are claimed by the friends of Mr. Douglass, he would still be Twenty six votes behind his Whig opponent." So much for the assertions of the Globe and the other hireling presses of the Administration which have aided in giving circulation to the falsehood.

☞ The Loco Focos pretend that Bank bills are not so safe as specie, and therefore they are in favor of prohibiting the circulation of all notes under $5. To this proposition of the tories, the New York Sun very appositely asks, "If a Bank note is good for the sum of $20 or $100, [illegible] for Mr [illegible] the [illegible] dium, which would be the effect of excluding all Bank bills of less denomination than $20."

☞ The Montreal Correspondent of the New York Courier and Enquirer under date of Oct 31, writes, that the steamer John Bull arrived there that morning from Halifax, with the 93d Regiment on board.

Intelligence from Quebec states that the steam frigate Medea had arrived at that port, and after a very short stay departed again, destination not known.

The Montreal papers of Tuesday 30th ult announce the arrival of the transport Horatio at Quebec, having on board 30,000 stand of arms and accoutrements, for the Provincial troops and volunteers.

The Ladies' Companion. This periodical, for November, has come to hand. Its contents are entirely original. The present number contains a beautiful steel engraving of the "Tiger Hunt," and a story by Mrs Stephens adapted to it. The Companion is published monthly in New York, and is furnished at the low price of Two Dollars in advance.

Unusual Compliment. The following toast was drank with great applause at a public dinner in Boston:

The Ladies. The only anti republicans whose [illegible] we like. None of them believe that all men are equal; few of them are willing that any man should be free.

☞ [illegible] Pearl [illegible] has been [illegible] increased, and the subscribers to it are hereafter to be furnished with the Evening Gazette.

It is computed that before the Fair of the New York American Institute closes, its receipts will exceed $15,000. Nearly half that amount came last week.

☞ Mr. Kurek is to give his Concert at the City Hall, on Saturday Evening next.

☞ [illegible] last evening, was filled by a large and respectable audience, who appeared to be highly pleased with the performances, especially with the riding of Madame Guerrini and Mr. Archer. The evening, [illegible] appeared, [illegible] Montreal and the Boston Atlas. Montreal Courier [illegible] Gov. [illegible] and [illegible] Mr. [illegible] Mr. [illegible] Esq.

GORHAM ACADEMY AND TEACHERS' SEMINARY.

Messrs Editors. In a former communication I mentioned some of the plans and motives and progress of the Trustees of this Institution. I ought perhaps to say, once for all, that I have no other motive for occupying the column of your paper than a desire to advance the interests of Education in general, and in this State especially. I believe it important that those who have sons or daughters whom they desire to send abroad to acquire an education, may be benefitted by understanding the condition and merits of this Institution. There is no good reason why parents should be obliged to send their children to be educated in other States if they choose to do this, they will be able to do it, even if our own State could furnish them better advantages. But the people of this State have a perfect right to create and sustain as good Institutions as surround them, and they ought to do it. The Trustees of Gorham Academy did well when they resolved to attempt this. Our State needs a Teachers' Seminary and a Female Seminary which can present as strong attractions for the sons and daughters of Maine, as any of those without the State.

We need annually between 3,000 and 4,000 teachers in our public winter schools, and as many more female teachers in the summer schools. These teachers need a training for this work. They need specific, professional instruction. We need therefore, not one teachers' seminary, merely, but several. We need one here in the valley of the Penobscot. One is needed in the eastern part of the State, and perhaps another among the hills of Oxford or Somerset County, or somewhere near the upper waters of the Kennebec river. But there can be little hope of sustaining three or four, and there can be but little motive to attempt them unless the first is fairly sustained. It is then of vital importance to the interests of education in Maine, that this first experiment upon a broad scale, be made successful. It is perhaps as important that a thoroughly endowed Female Seminary be fully sustained, capable of furnishing means of a thorough education, at a moderate expense, to young ladies, as it is that our colleges for young gentlemen should be well sustained. Then the necessity of qualified teachers referred to above, presents a very strong appeal to the friends of education to come up to the investigation of the whole subject, and to sustain the Trustees of the Gorham Seminary, if they deserve support. They have undertaken a work which needs, for a time at least, the encouragement and support of all friends throughout the State. By some means, funds sufficient to complete the endowment ought to be speedily furnished. There are two ways of doing this, one by Legislative grant, the other by individual subscription. Perhaps the union of the two, is the better way. But more of this subject hereafter.

A Friend of Education.

Romance in Upper Canada. A Miss Strange, niece of the late member of Parliament [illegible] Upper Canada Legislature, was engaged to be married to a Mr. Ducent, a merchant, residing at the head of Lake Ontario. A correspondent of the Rochester (New York) Democrat, thus tells how the enamoured swain sped in his wooing.

The day was fixed for the union of the happy pair. By previous arrangement, they were to be married early in the morning, and immediately take passage for New York on their way to Scotland, to visit their friends. The Scotch Minister in Kingston then being absent, Mr. Ducent brought a favorite parson with him, and arrived at the lady's house in the evening, anxiously waiting for the dawn of day, when he was to become the husband of the fair, the accomplished Isabella Strange. The trunks and bandboxes were all packed and ready, in one of which was deposited by the lady's uncle, for her special use, five hundred pounds.

Being thus arranged, and just before the parties retired to rest, a young gentleman of Kingston stepped up to the intended bride and bid her good bye, remarking at the same time that he "supposed this was the last time he should have the opportunity of salating Miss Strange!" and immediately left the house.

Morning came, and every thing was in readiness for the solemnization of the nuptial vows, when it was observed that Miss Strange did not make her appearance. The servant was sent to the lady's room, and returned with the astounding information that she was not there, and what was still more surprising, "her bed was not ruffled!" A letter was found on the table, which disclosed the whole mystery. She had been induced by her friends, contrary to her own free will, to engage herself in marriage to Mr. Ducent, but had given her heart to the young man above alluded to, and they, that night, with the trunks, five hundred pounds, and all, fled to Gravelly Point, in this State, and by five o'clock in the morning, she who was to have been Mrs. Ducent, had become Mrs. McLean!

Attention to Dress in Russia. At the Russian court dress and the toilette are much cultivated both from taste and policy. Of the innumerable balls that are given during the season at St. Petersburg, the most select are the private balls of the Empress at the Palais Anitskoff. To none of these are the diplomatic corps invited a prohibiting which they regret exceedingly. There are from eighteen to twenty of delightful reunions in the season. At these fetes, no lady, much less an elegante, is ever seen twice in the same dress, and so entirely without crease or crumple do their exquisite toilettes appear, that, to speak metaphorically, the ladies really seemed all to be just turned out of a band-box. Having been present at several of the balls, I can from my own knowledge declare, that I saw always new dresses on every fresh occasion. I had the [illegible] charged with two and sometimes three daughters who were [illegible] fashionably dressed, and if the expense [illegible] rather [illegible] that each gown cost two hundred roubles, that was one hundred for her daughters every night, and two hundred and fifty for herself, supposing that by twenty [illegible] the young ladies' wardrobes only.

UPPER CANADA

Fifty stand of arms with 500 rounds of ball cartridge, were yesterday given out to the different house-holders in town, and a further supply is shortly expected for distribution; the arms are to be deposited in some secure place, to be used in case of emergency.

We understand that orders have been issued by Sir John Colborne, in a measure changing the regulations made by Sir George for the enlistment of men, the terms to be 6 instead of 12 months. We learn further, that five companies of militia, amounting to 500 men, are to be forthwith organized in each district, one of which is to be on active duty, and the other four to parade once a week, the whole to be furnished with arms, clothing, &c. Further changes respecting the militia force are to be made, the particulars of which we are not apprised of. Prescott Sentinel.

Rocky Mountains. The Rev. Jason Lee the superintendent of the Oregon Mission, belonging to the Methodist Episcopal Church, arrived in this city yesterday, via St Louis. Five of the [illegible] with Mr Lee. They have been about six months on their journey, and have enjoyed good health during the whole of that time. We have received from our correspondents in the Oregon country, several interesting letters, extracts from which we shall shortly publish. N Y Com.

A Sister shot by her Brother. The Pennsylvania (Columbia) Courier says—A dreadful outrage was committed in this borough, yesterday morning, about 6 o'clock by a colored boy aged about 12 years. He had been requested to do something by his sister, a girl about 16, which he refused. She then threatened to whip him, upon which he went into another room, got his father's gun and deliberately shot her. The shot entered her face and neck, nearly or quite destroying one eye, and otherwise dreadfully mangling her. Her recovery is considered doubtful.

TREASURY NOTES.

Treasury Department,
Nov 1, 1838.

The whole amount of Treasury Notes authorized by the act of October 12, 1837, has been issued, viz $10 000,000 00

There has been redeemed of them about	7,581,490 00
The new emissions made in place of those under the act of May 12–1838, have been only	5,709,810 01
There have been returned into the Treasury, of these last, about	118,560 00
This leaves a balance of all outstanding equal to only	8 009 760 01

LEVI WOODBURY,
Secretary of the Treasury

Politeness. Politeness is a just medium between formality and rudeness; it is in fact good nature regulated by quick discernment, which proportions itself to every situation, and every character; it is a restraint laid by reason and benevolence on every irregularity of temper, or appetite, and passion. It accommodates itself to the frantic laws of custom and fashion, so long as they are not inconsistent with the higher obligations of virtue and religion.

To give efficacy and grace to politeness, it must be accompanied with some degree of grace as well as delicacy, and although its foundation must be rooted in the heart, it is not perfect without a knowledge of the world.

In society, it is the happy medium which blends the most discordant natures, it imposes silence on the loquacious, and inclines the most reserved to furnish their share of conversation, it represses the despicable but common ambition of being the most prominent character in the scene, it increases the general desire of being mutually agreeable; takes off the offensive edge of military; and gives delicacy to art; it preserves subordination, and reconciles ease with propriety; like other valuable qualities, its value is best estimated when it is absent.

No greatness can awe it into servility, no intimacy can sink it into a coarse familiarity, to superiors, it is respectful freedom, to inferiors, it is unassuming good nature, to equals, every thing that is charming; studying, anticipating, and attending to all things, yet at the same time apparently disengaged and careless.

Such is true politeness, by people of wrong heads and unworthy hearts disgraced in its two extremes; and by the generality of mankind confined within the narrow bounds of mere good breeding, which is only one branch of it.

Friendship. How tiresome do all the pleasures of the world appear when compared with the happiness of a faithful, tender, and enlightened friendship! How joyful do we shake off the soul, where our inclinations are free, and feelings genuine, and our sentiments unbiassed, where a mutual confidence of thoughts and actions, of pleasures and of pains uninterrupted prevail, where the heart is led to enjoy along the path of virtue; and the mind conducted by happiness into the bowers of truth, where every thought is anticipated before it escapes from the lips, where advice, consolation and succor are reciprocally given and received in all the accidents and misfortunes of life! The soul thus animated by the charms of friendship, springs from its sloth and apathy, and views the irradiating beams of hope breaking on its repose. Does the tear of sorrow steal down the cheek of one, the other with affection wipes it tenderly away. The deepest sorrows of one are felt with equal poignancy by the other, but what sorrow can resist the consolation which flows from an intercourse of hearts so tenderly, so intimately, so closely united? The only misfortune of which they have any fear, is the greatest they can possibly experience, the misfortune of absence, separation and death. Zimmerman.

Early Vegetables. Every one has observed, that when lettuce seed gets scattered upon the ground in the fall, and lies in the earth during the winter, it will be up earlier and come to maturity sooner than where the seed is sown in the spring, be it done as early as it may. The only objection to sowing in the fall is, the ground becomes so hard, that although the seed comes up quickly, the plant never grows as thriftily, nor becomes so large and grateful to the palate, as when the earth has been mellowed after anything in the spring. The same is the case with Parsnips, Onions, Radishes and many others.

Now to obtain the benefits of fall sowing and at the same time avoid the counteracting circumstances of the ground becoming compact and hard, I would propose that the seed be placed in a small bag, and buried in some safe place till spring, when, soon as the ground is fit to work, [illegible] being done, dig them up and plant them. The seed by lying in the ground evidently undergoes a [illegible] healthy germination, not to be obtained in any other way. What this process is I am not fully prepared to state; though probably it consists in the absorption of the oil that there contains, [illegible] of it [illegible] being acted upon by [illegible] and thereby fitting it to spring quickly into life on feeling the warmth communicated by the Above sun.

It is important to have seed of any kind come up quickly after it is sown, that it may get a start in advance of the weeds, which draw away the nutriment essential to a plant, and by being first up, choke and retard its growth. Take Onions for example, which are generally three or four weeks coming up; now if they could be made to come up in one, we shall thereby obtain an absolute gain of two weeks of the weeds, which if it should not save once hoeing, it will certainly render the first hoeing less difficult and tedious.

I have witnessed two instances where peas have lain over winter in the ground, which fully corroborates what I have been stating. I had occasion in the [illegible] eighteen or twenty inches deep in the fall, into which I threw a parcel of radish tops filled with seeds which were afterwards covered up to full depth of the trench dug. In the spring, I had this same ground spaded up so deep that many of the radish seeds were again brought to the surface. Of this I planted beet seed. In two days after [illegible] all [illegible] had germinated, and made their appearance, and continued to grow more luxuriantly of any I ever saw. The other instance strikingly illustrates the benefits of thus disposing of seeds during the winter. It was the following. After having prepared some ground for parsnips, and planted them in the usual manner I came across a bunch of seed where an ungathered top of a [illegible] had sufficiently got covered up, and lain through the winter. Of this, I gathered up a handful and threw it broad-cast upon the ground I had previously planted. In four or five days this last seed came up, and grew to be several inches high, before the seed first planted was out of the ground, which was as many weeks in coming up, as the other had been days. Here, though accidentally, a fair experiment was made, and positive proof of the advantages to be derived obtained. There are many other kinds of seeds, which I am fully convinced, may be kept and prepared in the same way for early germination with equally beneficial results. I shall test the experiment more extensively this winter with different kinds and whether the result prove successful, or a failure, your readers shall be informed in the spring. Buckeye Ploughboy.

Another Healing Act. The Argus is of opinion that the next Legislature will deem it necessary to pass another "Healing Act," in order to confirm the legality of the acts of Gov Kent and the Whig Legislature of last winter. Well, go on gentlemen, and play fom fool and the school boy to your hearts content. You had better occupy your time in this way than to be engaged in passing One-Dollar Bill Laws, or in holding Secret Sessions to sell out our Territory. We should think they had better pass an act to plaster over some of their most contemptible trickery and damnable fraud upon the elective franchise, and the gross violation of the ballot-box, in order to secure the places they now hold. But perhaps they think the less they stir the matter the better it will be for them. Somerset Journal.

Every reader will be impressed with the poetical beauty of the following stanzas. They were written by J. N McJilton, the editor of the Baltimore Monument. Such poetry touches the soul.

I HAVE NO FATHER THERE.

I saw a wide and well-spread board,
And children young and fair
Came one by one the eldest first,
And took their stations there.

All neatly clad and beautiful,
And with familiar tread,
They gathered round with joy to feast
On no vile and snow white bread.

Beside the board, the father sate,
A smile his features wore;
As on the little group he gazed,
And told their portions o'er.

A meagre form arrayed in rags,
A near the threshold stood,
A half starved child had wandered there
To beg a little food.

Said one "Why standest here my dear?
See there's a vacant seat,
Amid the children and enough
For them and thee to eat."

"Alas for me!" the child replied,
In tones of deep despair,
"No right have I amid you group,
I have no father there."

O hour of fate, when from the skies,
With notes of deepest dread,
The far resounding trump of God
Shall summon forth the dead,

What countless hosts shall stand without
The heavenly threshold fair,
And gazing on the blest, exclaim,
I have no father there.

OLMSTED'S PATENT STOVE.

THIS STOVE was invented and patented by Professor Olmsted of Yale College. It was originally designed for study chambers, but being found equally well adapted to family apartments, it came immediately into extensive use among the inhabitants of New Haven, and the demand for it here and elsewhere is rapidly increasing.

It is at present made chiefly of SHEET IRON, this material being esteemed on all accounts, the the most eligible; but it may be constructed either wholly or in part of cast iron should that be preferred.

The chief peculiarity of this stove, consists of substituting for the open pipe usually employed to distribute the heat generated by anthracite coal, an apparatus called a RADIATOR, which though of comparatively small dimensions, has an effect in absorbing and distributing the heat produced by coal equal to that of a very long pipe. By this means, the unsightly appearance of a stove pipe, traversing the apartment, is avoided, while the saving of material greatly diminishes the expense. The Radiator consists of two concentric cylinders having a narrow space of half an inch to an inch between them, through which the heated current is made to circulate in its passage from the [illegible] of combustion to the chimney. The current is thus brought CLOSELY INTO CONTACT with the two contiguous surfaces, heating at once the outer and inner cylinder. The former sends it heat into the apartment by direct radiation; the latter being open at the top and bottom, causes a current of air to flow through it like the chimney of an Argand lamp. The air within being rarefied by heat, flows out in a continual current at the top, while the colder air of the apartment flows in at the bottom, and becomes heated in turn. This adds greatly to the effect, contributing more indeed towards heating an apartment, than the direct radiation from the surface, and equalling [illegible] in a remarkable degree.

The objects aimed at in the construction of this Stove are, to be SIMPLE, so that domestics can easily manage it; to be quickly kindled; to be capable of affording either a MILD or an INTENSE HEAT, according to the state of the weather, to preserve the AIR of the apartment PURE AND WHOLESOME, to avoid all inconveniences from DUST, and finally, to be CHEAP and ECONOMICAL.

It is confidently believed, that this stove fulfils as many of the conditions, as any one now invented, and to a degree attainable only by an inventor, like the present, long and intimately acquainted with the laws of heat.

The CHAMBER STOVE is usually from 9 to 10 inches in diameter, and from 24 to 30 inches high. Its position is commonly on the hearth, or the usual place of the andirons. The fireplace being closed up, two pipes, one from the back of each cylinder, enters the wall thus formed, (or a sheet iron fireboard,) each pipe being furnished with a damper. This variety is adapted to student's rooms, offices, and particularly to NURSERIES, affording as it does, peculiar facilities for warming liquids, or medicinal preparations.

The PARLOR STOVE has two radiators, and is capable of warming the largest rooms in ordinary houses.

The HALL STOVE is adapted to situations where a communication is made with a distant fire by means of a long pipe, as in halls, stores, &c.

One ton of fine and half a ton of coarse coal, is an adequate supply for the chamber stove, for one season. Two tons is a full allowance for the parlor stove, when made of the usual dimensions.

To be had only at No. 8, Central Street.

AMERICAN MUSEUM.

THE American Museum of Literature and the Arts, will combine the solidity of a review with the lighter miscellany of a magazine; besides impartial reviews of important works and short notices of minor literary productions by the editors, it will embrace essays, tales, biographies, poetry, literary and scientific intelligence, and translations from standard and periodical works in other languages, contributed by some of the ablest writers of the day.

The Magazine will also contain a series of reviews of such [illegible], by their talents, shall have [illegible] upon American literature. The reviews will be accompanied by portraits of the authors, engraved on steel, by the best artists. The work will be beautifully printed, with new type, upon fine paper, and will make two volumes each year, of more than 500 pages each.

Agencies will be established in the periodical cities, and arrangements made to deliver the work free of postage. As the Museum is printed on a medium and a-half sheet, the highest postage that can be charged to any part of the country, for one year, will be $1.83 cents. Those desirous of acting as agents, will please apply post paid. Terms, $5 per annum, payable on the delivery of the first number, 5 copies $20.

HALLOWELL & BOSTON STEAM NAVIGATION.

The new, elegant and fast sailing Steamer AUGUSTA, Andrew Brown, Master, will leave Steamboat Wharf Hallowell for Boston every Monday and Thursday afternoons, at 2½ o'clock, touching at Gardiner and Bath.

Leaves Boston, every Tuesday and Friday afternoon, at 7 o'clock arriving at Hallowell next morning from 7 to 8.

Carriages will be in readiness to take passengers to and from Augusta, Waterville and Bangor, on the arrival of the boat and days of her sailing.

All bank bills, specie, and baggage of every description will be received only on the express condition that it be entirely at the risk of its owners.

The Augusta was built under the superintendence of Capt. C. Vanderbilt, of New York, expressly for a sea route—has splendid accommodations, and is in all respects worthy of public patronage.

N. B. All persons are forbid trusting any one on account of the above boat or owners.

THE most safe, effectual and economical remedy for diseases of the Human Constitution, that has ever been discovered.

These Pills are composed entirely of materials extracted from Medical Plants, and are warranted not to contain one particle of mercury, or any mineral substance. Dr. Kingley, the inventor of this valuable medicine, from his knowledge of the human system derived from a long and extensive practice, has arrived to the conclusion, that the great and primary cause of most diseases is a derangement in the functions of the liver; or in other words an increased or diminished secretion of the Bile.

So well is this understood, that it is common for persons to say when they feel unwell that they are bilious, meaning that they have too much bile in the stomach. On the other hand, when the flow of bile is diminished, the process of digestion is imperfectly performed, the patient becomes weak and emaciated, because nourishment contained in the food taken into the stomach is not properly extracted, and the food is ejected in a crude state. Dr Kingley is confident that the famous Hygean Theory, so called, that "impurity of the blood is the cause of all diseases," is a great absurdity. Every one who reflects upon the subject a moment, will perceive that impurity of the blood is a secondary, not a primary complaint—the effect, and not the cause of the disease. When the functions of the liver are deranged, and the flow of bile increased, it is often taken up by the absorbent vessels and carried into the circulation, and becomes mingled with the blood as in Jaundice; when the patient shows it in his countenance. Now this impurity of the blood is caused by an increased flow of the bile, and to remedy it you must correct the secretion of the liver and restore it to a healthy state.

Dr. Kingley has spent much time in experimenting with different vegetable medicines, for diseases of the liver, and now offers his Universal Family Pills as the best, most convenient and cheapest medicine that can be prepared for general use; and in offering them to the public, he is actuated more by benevolent than pecuniary motives, as the price of the medicine will show.

Dr. Kingley flatters himself that his long experimenting with vegetable medicines has enabled him to discover the true and only substitute answering all the purpose of mercurials, without any of their attendant evils. One great quality of his family Pills is, that they have the alterative principle combined with their cathartic or operative quality, so that they not only cleanse the stomach and bowels by purging, but they regulate the liver, change the morbid secretions, strengthen the digestive organs, purify the blood, invigorate the circulation, and give tone and energy to the nervous system.

They are mild and pleasant in their operation, and almost immediate conviction of their utility from the first dose. They can be taken with safety by persons of any age, and the feeble, the infirm, the nervous, the delicate, are strengthened by their operation, because they clear the system of bad humors, quiet nervous irritabilities and restlessness from whatever source, and invariably produce sound sleep.

The Family Pills are an invariable remedy for jaundice, sick and nervous headache, dyspepsia, costiveness, sickness of the stomach, heartburn, all bilious complaints, fevers of all kinds, and if taken at the commencement will invariably check their progress, and save the patient from a protracted and dangerous sickness. They are invaluable in nervous and hypochondriacal affections, loss of appetite, and all complaints to which females alone are subject. They operate as a mild and speedy purge, and are a safe and certain remedy for worms in children.

I might publish a small volume of certificates but consider it unnecessary, as the medicine will recommend itself to all who will make trial of it.

JOHN KINGLEY,

These Pills are put up in neat boxes of two sizes; the small size contains 25 Pills, and the retail price is 25 cents, the large size contains 60 Pills, the price is 50 cents.

☞ PALMER & BLAKE have been appointed agents for the above pills for the New England States. Druggists and others can be supplied wholesale and retail, upon application to them at No. 44 Hanover street, Boston; or to J. F. LADD, Augusta, agent for the State of Maine. [illegible] ROOT AND SUMMER LIZ POWDERS [illegible] by WHITTIER & GUILD.

DR. FRANCIS' OCCULUS-AQUA,
Remedy for Diseases of the Human Eye.

In presenting to the afflicted Dr. Francis' celebrated "Occulus-Aqua," the Proprietor is conscientiously actuated by a sense of duty, and a feeling which tells him he will be the means of alleviating the sufferings of his fellow creatures.

This remedy is known—has been tried—and has succeeded, in cases where hope had fled, and where perpetual loss of vision was rapidly setting in! It has succeeded in cases where the Faculty of Medicine had declared the sufferer to be incurable. See Certificates.

The object of the Proprietor in thus openly and candidly placing his remedy before the community, is that it may be known to all, and that it may prove a balm of healing to the desponding and afflicted.

Francis' Occulus Aqua is adapted to all inflammatory diseases of the Eyes, even when in their most tedious and chronic stages—it is adapted to all kinds of nervous affections, inability to use the eyelids, weak eyes of sight, opthalmias, &c. It will also remove, by a judicious course, those unnatural films, dead, cloudy appearances, frequently known by the name of "Cataracts."—Finally, all those inflammatory and nervous diseases with which the organs of vision are attacked, should invariably be treated by this inestimable remedy.

The Specific is put up in bottles, with complete directions for use. Advice is cheerfully given free of charge, at the Proprietor's house, where alone the Specific can be procured, in the city of N. York.

Professional hours from 7 to 12 A. M. and from 2 to 5 P. M. 10 Barkley-street, June 1st, 1838.

P. S. It has been thought advisable to annex a few certificates from Gentlemen, whose station in life, respectability, piety, and acknowledged worth are sufficient vouchers for the accuracy of their statements. To make any comments on them would be alike insulting to the judgement of the reader, and the unblemished honor of the authors.

From the Rev. Mr. Davies, Pastor of the church at Bridgeville, N. Y. "This is to certify that a gentleman with whom I am acquainted, who had been nearly blind for eight years, after expending several hundreds of dollars on various remedies with a view to relieve himself, was at length prevailed on to try one bottle of Dr. Francis' remedy. To the astonishment and gratification of his friends, after using it, though a martyr for many years to this distressing malady, he recovered his eye sight, and speedily did he improve in health till he recovered his perfect vision."

Another case was that of a poor man, who spending nine months in the Eye Infirmary, was discharged by the physicians of the Institution, with what they termed an incurable cataract on one eye, so that he was nearly blind. A trial of Dr. Francis' remedy, however, (three bottles only being used by him) removed it, to the surprise of all who knew him and now he can see with that eye as well as he ever did! I feel it my duty to give this information for the benefit of the public.

The Rev. J. Harrison, 41 Thompson street, having procured a bottle of the above for Mrs. Harrison's eyes, says, "to his astonishment it has removed the dimness and pain which had been excessive for years; she had used many different eye waters, but they all failed. Therefore I hope the public will appreciate its value.

JOSEPH HARRISON."

Mrs M'Caffrey, No 2 James street, widow of the late Dr. M'Caffrey, having used Dr. Francis' eye water, says, "I am happy to state it had the desired effect, and I can truly say saved me from absolute blindness, and I hope the public will soon know its value."

The Rev Mr. Dunbar says "From the testimony of those who have used the eye water prepared by Dr. J. Francis, I have no hesitation in recommending it to the special notice of the public."

DUNCAN DUNBAR,
Pastor of the McDougal st. church.

The Improved Enamelled EYES, inserted by Dr Isaac Francis, cannot be distinguished from the natural, and will perform every motion of that organ without giving the slightest pain.

THE BEST MEDICINE FOR COUGHS AND COLDS

THE best medicine for Coughs, Colds, and all Lung complaints, Hooping Cough, Spitting of Blood, Pain in the Side, Liver Complaint, and affections of the Breast, is Mr. M. N. GARDNER'S INDIAN BALSAM OF LIVERWORT, containing the strength of many roots and herbs. Among the number are Liverwort, Elecampane, Boneset, Asclepias tuberosa, Iceland Moss, Squills, Hyssop, Ruta graveolens; also many other herbs not to be procured in this part of the globe. For the last ten years this Valuable Balsam has been in extensive use in most of the principal towns in the Northern States, and, by the persuasion of those that have tested its efficacy, the Proprietor has made arrangements to furnish the druggists of this place, that all may avail themselves of a remedy, before the disease gets so deep that the medicine will remove it. Its effect on obstinate coughs is truly wonderful, and the following individuals voluntarily give their names as among the number who have proved its efficacy. From the knowledge of the materials, and the favorable effect upon our patients, where we have prescribed the above Balsam, we recommend it to be a valuable medicine for what it is recommended. Calvin Ellis, M. D., Albert Williams, M. D., members of the Massachusetts Medical Society. Also, see certificates on the direction, what astonishing cures it has effected for A. Webster, Boston, Horace Gall, Bristol, Mrs. [illegible] Boston, Rev of Baker & Hunton, Boston, David Woodbury, clerk of Josiah Steadman, Miss L. Howard. Thousands of others could be named, where it is best known. As a security against counterfeits, each direction will be signed by the Proprietor, M. N. Gardner. Proprietor's residence 481 Washington Street, Boston, where all orders can be addressed. Also observe on the bottle, impressed in the glass, the name Mrs. M. N. Gardner's Indian Balsam of Liverwort.

GENUINE BUFFALO OIL.
THE HAIR! THE HAIR! THE HAIR!

THE greatest ornament to the human body is a splendid head of hair. It has recently been discovered that the genuine Buffalo Oil is a sovereign remedy for baldness, prevents the hair from coming off, promotes the growth, continues the luxuriance, and improves the beauty. It is far superior to any other animal or vegetable oil, and in case of fever, where the hair becomes dry and begins to fall off, there is no application more effectual in restoring its beauty and rendering it in a healthy state.

It is put up at a low price, (37½ cents) that all classes can have access to it. None genuine unless put up in flat bottles, with HAIR OIL impressed in the glass. Also, to prevent imposition, it will be signed by the Proprietor, Wm Brown, 481 Washington, corner of Eliot Street, Boston.

For sale in Bangor by G. W. Holden, and Whittier & Guild. In Portland by J. Durgin & Co. and Wm W. Lincoln, and by most of the wholesale Druggists in Boston. wepd4taw6m oct 24 1838
